The Sir Wilfrid Laurier School Board responds to an article published in La Presse

Rosemère, March 3, 2017 – Following the publication of an article entitled “Cri du cœur d’une mère à bout de ressources” (the heartfelt cry of a mother out of resources) in the March 3, 2017 edition of La Presse, the Sir Wilfrid Laurier School Board wishes to inform the members of its community that it has the obligation of ensuring the welfare of all its students. As it takes the reported incident very seriously, it immediately carried out an investigation with the school and intervened with the students involved, as well as their parents, in order to rectify the situation and stress the importance of respecting cultural diversity.

The Sir Wilfrid Laurier School Board vigorously applies the policies and procedures it has put in place to prevent all forms of bullying and violence, for the benefit of its entire educational community.

Furthermore, the school board strongly supports innovative and awareness-raising practices in its schools.
