LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT AND WAYS TO SUPPORT IT

Speaker: Maria Guillen, SWLSB – Speech Language Pathologist

In collaboration with: Oleksandra Kurash, SWLSB – Speech Language Pathologist

The pace of speech and language skills development varies from one student to the next and depends on his or her individual learning profile. An increasing number of parents are interested in seeking ways to support their children's speech and language at home.

This presentation provides parents with simple, practical activities that support speech sound development, receptive and expressive language development, and social-pragmatics development.
